5

ABSTRACT

A method for controlling power of a mobile station by a base station in a multilayered communication system is disclosed. In the present invention, a base station serving a picocell does not lower a transmission signal power of a mobile station within a soft handoff region between a macrocell and a picocell. Thus, the mobile station can transmit signals at a sufficient level of transmission power to successfully execute a soft handoff.